Cookies

A cookie is a small text file that is sent with the pages of a website and stored by the browser on your computer, tablet or mobile phone. We use cookies to provide you with more service when visiting our websites, which makes them easier to use. For example, cookies ensure that you can remain logged in to a website or that your preferences, such as location and language settings, are remembered. Thanks to cookies, we can see how often our websites - and which pages - are viewed by visitors.

You must first give permission for placing certain cookies before these cookies may be used. This permission is not necessary if and to the extent that it concerns technically necessary

(functional) cookies and analytical cookies, within the meaning of the applicable legislation, such as article 11.7a paragraph 3 Telecommunications Act and the Privacy Regulation.

You can always withdraw your permission for cookies by changing your internet settings. More information about enabling and disabling and deleting cookies can be found in the Help function of your browser.

Provision of personal data to third parties

Without your consent, the Association will only provide your personal data to third parties if this is necessary for the performance of the Agreement that the Association has with you, unless the Association is legally obliged to provide your personal data to these third parties. In the table at the beginning of the privacy statement you will find an overview of the situations in which personal data are provided to third parties.

Inspection, correction and deletion of personal data

You have the right to request the Association to inspect your personal data (unless the Association is not obliged to provide this inspection under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)) and to have your data supplemented, deleted or shielded. You must identify yourself when making such a request. If you wish your data to be deleted, the Association will pass this deletion on to all other organisations that have received the relevant data from the Association.

Security of personal data

The Association takes appropriate measures to protect your personal data against loss, unauthorised access, publication and unlawful processing. This is how we ensure that only the necessary persons have access to your data, that access to the personal data is protected and that our security measures are regularly checked.

Minors

If you wish to register as a minor, you must provide explicit permission from your parent or guardian.

Links to other websites

The website may contain links to other websites. This Privacy Statement only applies to the websites of the Association. Other websites may have their own privacy policy. The Association advises you to always consult the relevant privacy statement of those websites before using other websites.

Changes to the privacy policy

The Association adjusts its privacy policy from time to time to keep it up to date. The most recent version of our Privacy Statement will always be included on the websites. The Association therefore advises you to consult the Privacy Statement regularly. In the event of important changes, the Association will do everything it can to inform you by e-mail and via the websites.
